

To ensure that humanitarian assistance is equitable, and that the specific needs of all segments of the affected population – women, girls, boys and men of all ages, abilities, and ethnicity, are identified, profiled and addressed, the CCCM sector working group is committed to implementing the following:

1. Increase women's participation and involvement in decision making:
 - a. Establishment and support of women's committees in site management community government structure.
 - b. Ensuring representation of women in camp leadership structure.
2. In coordination with relevant clusters and service providers working in displacement sites, harmonizing vulnerability criteria, and the sharing of information to identify and respond to the needs of the most vulnerable:
 - a. In coordination with relevant sectors and in particular the Protection, developing guidance for identifying, and assisting vulnerable groups, including the elderly, people with disabilities, pregnant and lactating women, child headed households.
 - b. Advocate to relevant sectors and service providers to ensure that vulnerability criteria is applied to all distribution processes (including food, shelter, NFIs), and that there is clear procedures/processes for assistance.
3. Ensuring gender analysis informs all activities in displacement sites, including that:
 - a. All assessments in settlement sites profile gender trends, issues and concerns.
 - b. All data and population movement include gender and age dimension.
 - c. Ensure that multi-sectorial response inside displacement sites include measures to mitigate protection risks including gender based violence.
4. Putting in place feedback mechanisms, including for the prevention of exploitation and abuse (PSEA).
